A few encouraging statistics pulled from this month's edition are as follows...

- Job openings rose in June to the highest level in more than 13 years. The number of unfilled positions climbed by 94,000 to 4.67 million, the most since February 2001, from a revised 4.58 million in May, a report from the Labor Department showed today. These figures indicate there are about 2 unemployed people vying for each opening. The ratio when the last recession began in December 2007 was 1.8 job seekers per opening. (Source: USDOL/Bloomberg)
- Overall freight tonnage in the U.S. is expected to grow 23.5% from 2013 to 2025. Freight revenues are projected to increase 72% during the same period. Trucking's share of freight tonnage will grow from 69.1% in 2013 to 71.4% in 2025. (Source: American Trucking Association/IHS)
- The Consumer Confidence Index increased to 90.9 in July 2014, up 4.5 points from the previous month and the highest since October 2007. (Source: The Conference Board)
- For the second quarter of 2014, PwC said there were 51 transportation and logistics M&A transactions valued at %50 million or more for a total of $20 billion, ahead of the 38 deals for a cumulative $16.2 billion recorded during Q1-2014 and the 39 deals valued at a cumulative $16 billion in Q2-2013.
